Girls Dress Code

SO WHAT'S APPROPRIATE?

- Dresses that are no more than TWO inches from the top of the kneecap!
- Modest necklines- NO cleavage!

GREAT CHOICES!

There are many dresses out there that comply with JP2's dress guidelines!

MORE GREAT CHOICES!

Necklines:

- Be modest please!
- No plunging necklines!
- No cleavage showing!

These are great!

These are NOT appropriate!

Heads up on Hi- Lows:

Good
Choices:

❖ The front skirt has to come down to TWO inches from the top of the kneecap, just like all other dresses! The chiffon over-layer does not count! What is underneath the chiffon or other over-layer is what will be measured for length.

And now, for some not so good choices...

DO NOT

buy this style of dress!

BANDAGE/TUBE
DRESSES

- There is a difference between fitted and skin tight!
The hem of the fitted dress will stay where it is, even when walking and dancing!

- The elasticized/tube dresses ride up after any movement!
Please DO NOT wear these dresses. They may be the correct length when you put it on, but the first step you take causes this style of dress to inch up your legs.

TWO-PIECE
es

Modesty does not mean that you have to be boring or ugly in the way you present yourself, it means that you understand the value of your body and you want to protect your dignity. It's also not reserved solely for the way you dress... modesty should also be practiced in the way you speak, act, and dance as well. It is an overall lifestyle that affects every aspect of how you live.
